

Spokane Bar Sapphire Mine & Gold Fever Rock Shop

December, 2007 Newsletter

Dear Friends:

Tinges of sunshine break into shadowed ground. Steam obscures the air as the lake begins freezing. Rising steam turns pink as it lifts and shifts into upstream clouds.

sheer ice – the need of the hour. Certainly we will have enough sapphire gravel stockpiled for winter...!

The sapphire mine's task list includes the following:

1. Put plow on dump truck, park it close to office so we can reach it in a storm.
2. Chip ice encased sapphire gravel out of sluices.
3. Pour gravel on icy road to keep Rick from going over the cliff.
4. Heat up fireplace to help keep tape on boxes being shipped out.
5. Unthaw gravel before shipping. Otherwise, it makes a mess when arriving in Florida..

December holiday spirits at work in the bleak Montana snow-scape. Our very own sapphire mine products, mined and created from our own land – include the following versions:

Rock Shop sale items = Winter Garnet Gravel – enhanced with one brilliant faceted garnet, about 5 mm, shipped $29.99 for one, second box $10 more! The Winter Garnet Gravel has potential jewelry making capabilities. Gravel is mined in Montana at a specific garnet dyke from ancient volcanic times. Extreme riches gleaned from the dirt
